CSC Adds Portable Boat Lift Capability to East Coast Blasting Services Chesapeake Soda Clean Expands Capabilities with Affiliate, Chesapeake Blasting Service

May 31, 2011, Millersville, Maryland: Chesapeake Soda Clean (CSC) announced today that in response to increasing demand for its comprehensive boat maintenance and soda blasting services, it has purchased a Portable Boat Lift and has enhanced its collaborative relationship with Chesapeake Blasting Service of Owings, Maryland to implement the new service.

The addition of the lift allows CSC the opportunity to remove anti-fouling bottom paint with one-stop shop service. Ideal for boats under 25', the lift is designed to handle a 2610 pound Working Load Limit (WLL), more than enough to cradle 25' boat bows (normally substantially less than ½ the weight of the boat). Winch and pivot stands are 6' high; the trapeze is 10' wide between the stands. This width allows typical 8' and 8' 6" wide trailers to be pulled out from under a boat, between the stands, and out from under the trapeze with room to spare on each side.

Over the years, Chesapeake Soda Clean, Inc. has blasted everything imaginable from small, delicate items to entire buildings, inside and out. Recognized as an expert in the field, CSC is in daily contact with a vast network of soda blast contractors in the United States as well as internationally.

With a rapidly growing clientele, Chesapeake Soda Clean is relying on affiliate, Chesapeake Blasting Service, to handle customer service. An offshoot of CSC, CBS was formed in 2008 under the leadership of Mike Morgan, who focuses all of his time and effort on blasting projects of all types and size.

With a complete restoration supplies sales portfolio—including serving as an authorized distributor for Bad Dust Containment Systems, The Soda Works, Natrium Products, Marco USA, Hold Tight Solutions, and New Age Media—Chesapeake Soda Clean is able to offer automotive, marine, residential and commercial training aids for new soda blast contractors, on-site training for new customers and a fee-based training for all others.
